DEMS STILL TRYING TO MAKE NOMINATION

Adjourn This Morning After Taking Twelfth Ballot

CLARK STILL IN LEAD

Speaker Loses Few Votes--Bryan Being Watched Closely

With the nomination apparently as far off as at the time of the first ballot the Democratic National convention was adjourned at Baltimore this morning at 3 o'clock, after concluding the twelfth ballot. Clark was still in the lead at that time, but had dropped eight from his highest vote. Wilson showed an increase of four votes, Harmon stood at the same notch, and Underwood showed a gain of five. Marshall still had his hat in the ring and was receiving his 30 Indiana votes regularly. Bryan and Kern were slightly in the running with a vote each. The convention again took up its task this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

After the convention was called to order at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon three ballots were taken. The remaining nine were taken at night. The third ballot was as follows: Clark 441, Wilson 345, Harmon 140½, Underwood 114½, Baldwin 14, Marshall 31, Bryan 1, Kern 1.

After the fourth ballot Baldwin was dropped. Clark and Wilson stood at about the same point. However they both gained a few votes each. Harmon's boom went on a decline. Underwood stuck and Marshall was there with his puny 31 votes through to the eleventh ballot.

On the tenth ballot, Clark went to his highest with 556 votes, having gained by the shifting of the New York 90 votes to his standard. Wilson gained from 352 1-2 to 370 1-2 while Harmon dropped to 31. Underwood was still on deck with his 117 votes. The result of the eleventh vote was as follows: Clark 554, Wilson 354 1-2, Harmon 29, Underwood 118 1-2, Marshall 30.

The twelfth ballot was as follows: Clark 546, Wilson 358, Harmon 29, Underwood 123. Marshall 30.

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana is a "dark horse" candidate who may be brought out prominently this afternoon. Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama is to be his running mate. Kern is Bryan's choice, it is understood, and he may swallow Underwood, although the latter is opposed by a number of Bryan's lieutenants.

Wilson's votes seem to be as substantial as the rock of Gibralter. Clark's apparently are not glued to him so tenaciously. Kansas has been voting Clark but has been wavering towards Wilson. Maryland has been voting Clark but has shown an inclination to jump the traces. Bryan has the Washington 14 delagates in his hand. Indiana is standing by Gov. Marshall at his personal request. Twenty-one of these delegates are Wilson men at heart however, with nine for Clark or Harmon. Wilson commanded the 14 delegates from Connecticut when they flopped from support of their governor. Underwood has a solid vote of over 100 he can turn loose any time he wishes.

The situation is one that is hard to fathom. There are deep politics be-

CLASS IS INITIATED

Degree Work Put on by Charleroi Protected Home Circle

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

Charleroi Circle, No. 303 Protected Home Circle held a class initiation Friday night and entertained a number of visiting Protected Home Circle members. Their meeting was held in the Bank of Charleroi Hall, and as the climax of three months' work 37 candidates were initiated. The degree work was put on by the Banner degree team of Charleroi circle, consisting of 16 women, under the direction of Frank Taylor. After the initiatory exercises were conducted the doors were thrown open to the public. A program was rendered.

Frank Bly was in charge of the program and made the opening address. The Charleroi degree team gave a drill. It has been together for but seven weeks, but it showed a remarkable proficiency. Dr. H. J. Repman made a talk, Miss Mabel Woodring recited, William Lewis, a deputy from Pittsburg spoke on "Enthusiasm," Mrs. William Lewis recited, the Colonial quartet rendered a selection and Miss Eva Caulderhead, of Fayette City recited. The program was concluded by a drill by the Loyal Circle team of Pittsburg, the members appearing in costume, under the direction of Frank Duncan. This is one of the best known and most proficient teams of the Protected Home Circle at large and the drill was perfection itself.

Visitors were present from Pittsburg, Canonsburg, Washington, Monsen and Donora.

BRYAN POWERFUL MAN IN DEM CONVENTION

Dr. J. W. Manon and E. H. Arrison Return From Baltimore--Relate Experiences Noted While There

Dr. J. W. Manon and E. H. Arrison have returned home from Baltimore, Md., where they have been in attendance at the national Democratic convention. They remained long enough to seen the first ballot taken. Dr. Manon said he was satisfied that there would be a nomination today, and from indications the nominee would either be the great commoner, William Jennigs Bryan or Speaker Champ Clark.

According to Dr. Manon, Bryan has a hold on the convention that no other man could have. "I do not think that Bryan intended through his political maneuvers to finally bring about his own nomination. But if his name is ever officially brought before his own convention, he will be nominated just as sure as shooting. It is a fight between the conservatives among which are numbered the Tammany crowd of New York and the progressives of which Bryan is the undoubted head.

"I heard some of the most prominent New York delegates holding a quiet conference. They admitted Bryan's wonderful strength and were wondering how they could prevent him from gaining the ascendency.

They concluded that only by very thorough organization and by not trying to combat Bryan could they hope gain anything.

"The way it appeared to me, Bryan could do about what he pleased with the convention. He did'nt expect at all to get through his resolution opposing government by interest. His personality and reasoning carried it easily. I never saw a man have such power. His grasp on conditions is wonderful and makes him practically unbeatable in debate.

"There seemed to be a sort of ludicrous fear that Bryan's name would be brought before the convention in an official way. His enemies admit he will be a vistor if it is."

GROOM'S FATHER BALKS WEDDING

Double Wedding Spoiled When Dad of Youth Locks Him Up in Room

A double wedding planned it is stated for Friday afternoon at the home of A. D. Bennett of Washington was changed unexpectedly into a marriage of one couple only as the result of the sudden determination of the father of one of the prospective grooms that the young man should not marry. To make the decision binding the father locked the youth up in a room until after the hour set for the ceremony.

The result is that there is in Washington a bitterly disappointed and wrathful young woman and equally angry, but helpless young man. Big preparations had been made for the double event in the afternoon, in which Clyde H. Moss of Rea was to have married Miss Annie B. Bennett of Washington, and Stephen Lennox of Washington was to have married Miss Laura V. M. Bennett of Washington.

At the appointed hour the two sisters awaited the coming of the grooms in the home of their father, A. D. Benett. Mr. Moss arrived on schedule time and so did the clergyman, Rev. S. L. Parcell, pastor of the Board Street Baptist Church. Mr. Lennox did not come and the wedding party waited impatiently.

Miss Laura Bennett had a police officer sent to the Lennox home. The officer was met by James Lennox, who said that his son was locked in an upper room and would remain there as he, the father, had decided the boy should not marry, but should remain at home and continue to help support the family.

The policeman carried back the message and after a discussion Miss Annie B. Bennett and Mr. Moss were married according to schedule, while the bride who had been left waiting at the altar retired to her room and gave herself up to tears. Lennox is 22 years of age, but his father says that makes no difference, and he intends to direct the actions of the young man for years to come.

ELIZABETH WOMAN BECOMES BRIDE OF A. W. GALBRAITH

A. W. Galbraith of East Pike Run township and Miss Winnie Morrison of West Elizabeth were married in Pittsburg June 25 by Rev. W. F. Jones. After the ceremony the couple left for Harrisburg, returning to Mr. Galbraith's country place in East Pike Run Thursday June 27, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galbraith of Washington avenue, Mr. Galbraith being a brother of the groom. The couple were given a reception in West Elizabeth by about sixty friends of the bride.

WILL REDEDICATE METHODIST CHURCH

Services Arranged for Sunday in Celebration of Fifth Anniversary

The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church will tomorrow celebrate the fifth anniversary of the dedication of their church edifice. Exactly five years ago the Rev. C. W. Smith D. D., then editor of "The Pittsburg Christian Advocate" now a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assisted by other prominent ministers dedicated the new structure with appropriate ceremonies. Previous to going into the new building the membership numbered 317. It now numbers 389. At that time the Sunday School enrolment was but 160. It is now 449, exclusive of the Cradle Roll and Home Department. Previous to that time the property was valued at $7,500. The present calculation is $30,000.

Tomorrow there will be the usual Sunday School session at 9:30 and at 10:45 the pastor Rev. F. A. Richards will preach an anniversary sermon on "God and the House." In the evening the Rev. J. H. Miller D. D. of Pittsburg will preach, the service to commence at 7:45. The choir under direction of August Bosson, will sing appropriate special music.

MUSICAL TREAT PROMISED PARK VISITORS SUNDAY

In connection with the band concert to be given by the Louhi Band of Monessen ot Eldora Park tomorrow, will be some violin solos by Prof. Ernest Pauanne, leader of the band. Prof. Pauanne is an accomplished violinist, and during the afternoon and evening concerts at the park tomorrow will contribute violin solo numbers to the programs.

Louhi's Band is one of the best musical aggregations in the Monongahela valley, and the previous engagements it has filled at Eldora Park have been highly enjoyed by the patrons. As the park affords shade and fresh air to the industrial workers of mill and mine, as well as all other shut-in's during the week, large crowds take advantage of the opportunity to spend the day in the open.

CURB MARKET PRESENTS BARGAIN SALE SCENE

Two Hundred Buyers Quickly Rid Out Limited Supply

FARMERS INTERESTED

Smiled When Scheme Was First Mentioned--Take Things Serious Now

The Charleroi curb market presented more the appearance of a popular bargain sale this morning than anything else. The demand was such that the farmers and producers who came in had no more chance supplying it than the Monongahela river has of changing its course. There were between five and eight wagons in line and over 200 purchasers. Everybody had sold out and gone before 8 o'clock.

Before 7 o'clock the buying started. There was great competition on the part of buyers and none at all on the part of sellers. About every wagon there was gathered a crowd. When a new one would come, women and men would flock thither. It looked very much like an open air bargain sale.

The astounding success of the venture, so far as patronage is concerned, has surprised the farmers and producers. A number did not seriously take to the plan when it was broached by the local committee, and did not prepare for the curb market. The morning a group of farmers were heard talking over the curb market. One said:

"We never imagined it would be anything like this. Next year there will be four or five times the produce. Every farmer and producer living in the vicinity will plant garden truck. They know now that they can sell it. In two weeks or more there will be a lot more stuff ripe, and you can bet your bottom dollar we are going to bring it in."

"Heretofore we have never had any encouragement to raise garden truck to sell, and often when we brought a load to town we could not huckster it out at the time being and had to sell at wholesale rates that did not pay."

At one time over 60 women and half as many men with market baskets were lined up awaiting the coming of a wagon.

Ready to be Called

Hon. Edward Callaghan Sends Telegram to Bryan Concerning Nomination

Hon Edward Callaghan, Charleroi's candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, anxiously awaited news from the Baltimore convention Saturday, ready to leave at a moment's notice by special train, if called upon. Saturday morning Mr. Callaghan sent a telegram to W. J. Bryan as follows: "The hour is come. The leader is here. Callaghan."

COURT ON VACATION

Will Adjourn in Day or So for Six Weeks Rest

FINISHING UP WORK

Court will adjourn sine die on Monday for the annual bar vacation of six weeks. The court has urged attorneys several times lately to get any business that they might have with the court out of the way this week, for there would be no court after Monday, the court intimating that it did not want to be bothered with business during the vacation.

Business is getting a little slack already about the temple of justice, and for the next six weeks there will be very little doing. Equity cases are being heard this week. Motion and rule court on Monday will close up the business until after the bar vacation.

Judge McIlvaine, on acount of the illness of Judge Taylor, will have considerable work on hands before he can take his vacation. He has several important cases, in which opinions have to be prepared, but as soon as he can get off the bench he will soon grind these out.

There will be no court after Monday until the grand jury is convened in August. So far the business for the August term of criminal court, which is usually a large term, is not looming up very large. There is no August term of common pleas court and there will be nothing doing in civil cases until the November term.

Hold Picnic at Park.

Graduates, students and friends of Douglas Business College enjoyed themselves at the annual picnic of the school held Friday afternoon and evening at Eldora Park. The rain in the afternoon dampened the ardor of the picnicers a trifle, but withal a fine time was had.

Miss Lenore Shannon has returned from Lock Haven, where she was a member of the graduating class of the Lock Haven Normal school.

Prof Daniel Gayman, formerly of Charleroi now of Marianna was a visitor in Charleroi today. Prof Gayman was one of those injured in the wreck on the Ellsworth branch June 8.

Mrs. Samuel Spencer and daughter, Janet of Toronto, Ohio, are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Copeland of 721 Eighth street.

SAFE AND SANE.

The Fourth of July demonstration which Charleroi is planning for the evening of the Nation's natal day, is not only a safe and sane affair, but it is valuable to the local annals of our town. In a certain sense it is a retrospection of the achievements of the civic life of the borough and designed to give an idea of its start, its growth and development, and its ultimate progress. The idea of inting all the available former borough and school officials is a most excellent one, as it serves to show who were active in our civic development, and how it was achieved.

A demonstration of this sort is calculated to bind the people together in closer ties of neighborliness, good fellowship and civic pride. It is the inculcation of local patriotism, a quality which the general country is sadly in need of today. Charleroi has made untoward progress from the fact that her people have worked together unselfishly for the common good, and it is a fitting observance to have the men who organized and developed the official life of the borough to meet and be greeted by the people who have been benefitted by their endeavors. This is a safe and sane observance of the Fourth and be held in the evening will not interfere with other plans for the holiday.

THE LEGAL STATUS

After Judge J. A. McIlvaine's masterly interpretation of the law governing the situation, there ought to be no more confusion in the matter of the dispensation of intoxicating liquor by clubs. Judge McIlvaine has clearly defined the law as to what constitutes a sale and the legal distribution of liquor hereafter by clubs can readily be determined in any court of law.

According to Judge McIlvaine's interpretation of the law, no one without a state license granted by the county court has a right to sell intoxicating liquors for a profit. Under certain conditions such liquors may be distributed and paid for by the consumers, but this distribution must be a matter of convenience and an incident, and not a sale. As a matter of course there will be a difference of opinion concerning this point which will have to be decided by the courts, but in the course of time the decisions in the various cases which arise will clearly define the course of proceedure and give the question a clear legal status. The court's opinion on this question is far reaching and while it is subject to appeal, it is hardly expected in high legal circles that the interpretation will be reversed in any of its particulars.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

There are two Wilsons who are claiming attention these days. One is Woodrow, who wants the presidency, and the other is Chief Wilson of the Pittsburg Pirates, who usually wants a hit.

It is tough on those Philippine delegates to come all that distance and then get thrown out of the convention.

With the State Department of Public grounds without an appropriation for their penknives and other like articles, there will doubtless be a decrease in the need of the said articles.

Even delegates have to have a little rest.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In the general impression that the public schools all over the country are not performing the desired end—that of fitting boys in particular for their life work—a writer in this week's Saturday Evening Post throws some additional light on the situation. In effect he states that the impression that the old time district schools and academies turned out better and bainer men, was due to the fact that all school experience was closely associated with work. Every boy who attended the country district schools and later the academies had work to do at home on the farm, for agriculture in its simplest and crudest form, was the stable industry of the land in pioneer days and school was a mere incident. The boy could go to school when he couldn't work, and he was more frequently than otherwise called from school when work was pressing to help out on the farm. In the morning he milked cows and did chores, and in the evening repeated the experience. The girls also had similar duties to perform.

In that way every boy and girl was made intimately acquainted from start to finish with the process of production from which their families made a living. They knew all the practical details. When a young man started out at 21 he didn't have to devote several years to learning the elementary details of a business. He was equipped with that knowledge from the very start. He knew what to do and how to do it, and that effect followed cause.

Nowadays education and real work are as widely divorced as the two opposite poles. Our whole educational system is based on the theory that every child is going to college and the fundamental educational training of the children is devoted to the work of preparation. As a matter of fact only a small percentage of our children ever do go through college, but that seems to make no difference on the general plan of educators, who assume that all ought to go through college anyhow, and that if they don't it's their misfortune. The children are taught absolutely nothing in the way of work at school, and as they do not have any duties at home any more, they grow up utterly ignorant of the sources and forces of production. The college graduate is practically no better equipped, and has to learn how to do things and what they are done for after he starts out in life, so that he is practically 30 years old or more, before he is equipped to begin life's work properly.

The writer in the Saturday Evening Post likens a college education which a doting parent has bestowed upon a youth of 22 to a cork leg, so far as practical utility is concerned. He puts it thusly:

"My son, I have spent $4,000 buying you the best cork leg in the market. I don't know that you will ever use a cork leg, but certainly I've been a liberal parent."

ing played or to be played. Bryan is probably the closest watched man on the floor. He has something up his sleeve, it is believed that he will pull off when the time seems most ripe. Whether a nomination will be reached today or not is a question. At the present rate of progress it looks rather doubtful.

Mrs. Charles Bromwich, 714 Washington avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says. 'About two years ago I had a severe attack of kidney disease and suffered a great deal from pains in the small of my back. I was also subject to headaches and a feeling of languor and although I tried a number of remedies, I was not helped. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me, and deciding to try them I procured a box at Piper Bros.' Drug Store. In a few days after using this remedy, I felt a great deal better and before long a complete cure was effected. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement." Statement given September 30, 1907.)

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by women and held in strict confidence

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

In addition to the Weekly Pathe Bulletin, which is always eagerly awaited by patron on Wednesday nights, the Palace Theatre had some strong photoplay dramas in their weekly repertoire. One of these was "Bronco Bill's Holdup," which tells the story of how a woman's kindness to a westerna desperado was repaid. A woman flees with her child, a little girl, from a drunken brute of a husband and becomes a school teacher whose little daughter makes a deep impression on the man. Next day the woman's husband reappears, and on her refusal to return to him, the man k idnaps his little daughter and runs away with her. He flags the stage coach and takes passage with the child. In the meantime the desperado holds up the stage, makes the passengers alight, and then discovering the child takes her from the father and making the passengers resume their journey, returns the little girl to her mother. It was a most thrilling play, and aroused the deepest interest on the part of the audiences. Others of equal interest were shown, some grave and some gay, and the weekly repertoire lacked none of the interest that make the Palace such an attractive theatre.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Two two-reel Bison films by the celebrated "101 Ranch' wild west company were some of the big showings at the Coyle Theatre this week for which no extra admission fee was charged. The first of the Bison films, "The Outcast," is the story of a young white trapper who rescues an Indian maiden from a bear trap in which she has been caught, and returns her safely to her people. The girl falls in love with the trapper, but her father sells her to the chief of another tribe. The girl kills her purchaser and flees to the trapper's cabin, but is captured by the Indians and when about to be put to death is rescued by the trapper and her own people. It is a story of all's well that ends well. "An Offier's Honor" is also a tale of the wild west, a synopis of which was already been published. Another most entertaining film was "A Visit to the New York Zoo," where are shown some interesting specimens of animals and birds. A herd of musk ox, the only living specimens in captivity is shown. These interesting animals which have only heretofore been seen in inanimate drawings, live so far up in the Arctic regions that none but the specimens in New York have ever before been captured. A big repertoire of live motion picture dramas was also included in the weekly repertoire.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

"Shamus O'Brien," a two reel film showing the thrilling and sensational scenes of the dramatic features during one of the struggles of Ireland for home rule and liberty, was the chief attraction of the Star Theatre this week. This great film was most carefully prepared and gave with historical accuracy the costumes as well as the environments of the times. It was a most graphic depiction of the efforts of patriotic Irishmen in times gone by to free their country from the chains that enthralled them. Other strong photoplays of the week were "A Daughter of the West," "Mrs. Alden's Awakening," "The Clown's Triumph," "The Housekeeper," "The City in the Night," a mysterious drama, and many others. It was a most excellent repertoire, as the size of the houses attested.

Fire Engines Long Known.

It isn't worth while inquiring into the origin of the first engine built for a fire extinguisher There were devices for this purpose before the Americas were heard of. The Egyptians had them, and so also other peoples, crude as they were.

Coroner's Cocktail.

Mix three chorus girls with as many men and soak in champagne until mid night. Squeeze into an auto. Add a dash of joy and a drunken chauffeur. Shake well. Serve at seventy miles an hour.—Life

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box R, Notre Dame, Ind.

METHODISTS WIN BY TWO SCORES

Making the most advantage of their six hits, the Methodists won from the Lutherans Friday night. For every hit the Methodists got they scored a run, which was somewhat different from the custom in vogue among the Lutherans who required eleven bingles to get around their four scores.

The Methodists scored one in the first and one in thesecond inning, then with a suddeness the Lutherans jumped into the lead with their four scores. Neither team was able to secure a strangle hold on the scoring market until the sixth inning. Then three hits, three errors and four stolen bases represented four runs. Nobody scored in the seventh. DEMS STILL TRYING TO MAKE NOMINATION

CLARK STILL IN LEAD

Speaker Loses Few Votes--Bryan Being Watched Closely

With the nomination apparently as far off as at the time of the first ballot the Democratic National convention was adjourned at Baltimore this morning at 3 o'clock, after concluding the twelfth ballot. Clark was still in the lead at that time, but had dropped eight from his highest vote. Wilson showed an increase of four votes, Harmon stood at the same notch, and Underwood showed a gain of five. Marshall still had his hat in the ring and was receiving his 30 Indiana votes regularly. Bryan and Kern were slightly in the running with a vote each. The convention again took up its task this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

After the convention was called to order at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon three ballots were taken. The remaining nine were taken at night. The third ballot was as follows: Clark 441, Wilson 345, Harmon 140½, Underwood 114½, Baldwin 14, Marshall 31, Bryan 1, Kern 1.

After the fourth ballot Baldwin was dropped. Clark and Wilson stood at about the same point. However they both gained a few votes each. Harmon's boom went on a decline. Underwood stuck and Marshall was there with his puny 31 votes through to the eleventh ballot.

On the tenth ballot, Clark went to his highest with 556 votes, having gained by the shifting of the New York 90 votes to his standard. Wilson gained from 352 1-2 to 370 1-2 while Harmon dropped to 31. Underwood was still on deck with his 117 votes. The result of the eleventh vote was as follows: Clark 554, Wilson 354 1-2, Harmon 29, Underwood 118 1-2, Marshall 30.

The twelfth ballot was as follows: Clark 546, Wilson 358, Harmon 29, Underwood 128, Marshall 30.

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana is a "dark horse" candidate who may be brought out prominently this afternoon. Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama is to be his running mate. Kern is Bryan's choice, it is understood, and he may swallow Underwood, although the latter is opposed by a number of Bryan's lieutenants.

Wilson's votes seem to be as substantial as the rock of Gibralter. Clark's apparently are not glued to him so tenaciously. Kansas has been voting Clark but has been wavering towards Wilson. Maryland has been voting Clark but has shown an inclination to jump the traces. Bryan has the Washington 14 delagates in his hand. Indiana is standing by Gov. Marshall at his personal request. Twenty-one of these delegates are Wilson men at heart however, with nine for Clark or Harmon. Wilson commanded the 14 delegates from Connecticut when they flopped from support of their governor. Underwood has a solid vote of over 100 he can turn loose any time he wishes.

The situation is one that is hard to fathom. There are deep politics be-

CLASS IS INITIATED

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

Charleroi Circle, No. 303 Protected Home Circle held a class initiation Friday night and entertained a number of visiting Protected Home Circle members. Their meeting was held in the Bank of Charleroi Hall, and as the climax of three months' work 37 candidates were initiated. The degree work was put on by the Banner degree team of Charleroi circle, consisting of 16 women, under the direction of Frank Taylor. After the initiatory exercises were conducted the doors were thrown open to the public. A program was rendered.

Frank Bly was in charge of the program and made the opening address. The Charleroi degree team gave a drill. It has been together for but seven weeks, but it showed a remarkable proficiency. Dr. H. J. Repman made a talk, Miss Mabel Woodring recited, William Lewis, a deputy from Pittsburg spoke on "Enthusiasm," Mrs. William Lewis recited, the Colonial quartet rendered a selection and Miss Eva Caulderhead, of Fayette City recited. The program was concluded by a drill by the Loyal Circle team of Pittsburg, the members appearing in costume, under the direction of Frank Duncan. This is one of the best known and most proficient teams of the Protected Home Circle at large and the drill was perfection itself.

Visitors were present from Pittsburg, Canonsburg, Washington, Monsen and Donora.

BRYAN POWERFUL MAN IN DEM CONVENTION

Dr. J. W. Manon and E. H. Arrison Return From Baltimore--Relate Experiences Noted While There

Dr. J. W. Manon and E. H. Arrison have returned home from Baltimore, Md., where they have been in attendance at the national Democratic convention. They remained long enough to seen the first ballot taken. Dr. Manon said he was satisfied that there would be a nomination today, and fram indications the nominee would either be the great commoner, William Jennigs Bryan or Speaker Champ Clark.

According to Dr. Manon, Bryan has a hold on the convention that no other man could have. "I do not think that Bryan intended through his political maneuvers to finally bring about his own nomination. But if his name is ever officially brought before his own convention, he will be nominated just as sure as shooting. It is a fight between the conservatives among which are numbered the Tammany crowd of New York and the progressives of which Bryan is the undoubted head.

"I heard some of the most prominent New York delegates holding a quiet conference. They admitted Bryan's wonderful strength and were wondering how they could prevent him from gaining the ascendency.

They concluded that only by very thorough organization and by not trying to combat Bryan could they hope gain anything.

"The way it appeared to me, Bryan could do about what he pleased with thec onvention. He did'nt expect at all to get through his resolution opposing government by interest. His personality and reasoning carried it easily. I never saw a man have such power. His grasp on conditions is wonderful and makes him practically unbeatable in debate.

"There seemed to be a sort of ludicrous fear that Bryan's name would be brought before the convention in an official way. His enemies admit he will be a victor if it is."

GROOM'S FATHER BALKS WEDDING

Double Wedding Spoiled When Dad of Youth Locks Him Up in Room

A double wedding planned it is stated for Friday afternoon at the home of A. D. Bennett of Washington was changed unexpectedly into a marriage of one couple only as the result of the sudden determination of the father of one of the prospective grooms that the young man should not marry. To make the decision binding the father locked the youth up in a room until after the hour set for the ceremony.

The result is that there is in Washington a bitterly disappointed and wrathful young woman and equally angry, but helpless young man. Big preparations had been made for the double event in the afternoon, in which Clyde H. Moss of Rea was to have married Miss Annie B. Bennett of Washington, and Stephen Lennox of Washington was to have married Miss Laura V. M. Bennett of Washington.

At the appointed hour the two sisters awaited the coming of the grooms in the home of their father, A. D. Benett. Mr. Moss arrived on schedule time and so did the clergyman, Rev. S. L. Parcell, pastor of the Board Street Baptist Church. Mr. Lennox did not come and the wedding party waited impatiently.

Miss Laura Bennett had a police officer sent to the Lennox home. The officer was met by James Lennox, who said that his son was locked in an upper room and would remain there as he, the father, had decided the boy should not marry, but should remain at home and continue to help support the family.

The policeman carried back the message and after a discussion Miss Annie B. Bennett and Mr. Moss were married according to schedule, while the bride who had been left waiting at the altar retired to her room and gave herself up to tears. Lennox is 22 years of age, but his father says that makes no difference, and he intends to direct the actions of the young man for years to come.

ELIZABETH WOMAN BECOMES BRIDE OF A. W. GALBRAITH

A. W. Galbraith of East Pike Run township and Miss Winnie Morrison of West Elizabeth were married in Pittsburg June 25 by Rev. W. F. Jones. After the ceremony the couple left for Harrisburg, returning to Mr. Galbraith's country place in East Pike Run Thursday June 27, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galbraith of Washington avenue, Mr. Galbraith being a brother of the groom. The couple were given a reception in West Elizabeth by about sixty friends of the bride.

WILL REDEDICATE METHODIST CHURCH

Services Arranged for Sunday in Celebration of Fifth Anniversary

The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church will tomorrow celebrate the fifth anniversary of the dedication of their church edifice. Exactly five years ago the Rev. C. W. Smith D. D., then editor of "The Pittsburg Christian Advocate" now a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assisted by other prominent ministers dedicated the new structure with appropriate ceremonies. Previous to going into the new building the membership numbered 317. It now numbers 389. At that time the Sunday School enrolment was but 160. It is now 449, exclusive of the Cradle Roll and Home Department. Previous to that time the property was valued at $7,500. The present calculation is $30,000.

Tomorrow there will be the usual Sunday School session at 9:30 and at 10:45 the pastor Rev. F. A. Richards will preach an anniversary sermon on "God and the House." In the evening the Rev. J. H. Miller D. D. of Pittsburg will preach, the service to commence at 7:45. The choir under direction of August Bosson, will sing appropriate special music.

MUSICAL TREAT PROMISED PARK VISITORS SUNDAY

In connection with the band concert to be given by the Louhi Band of Monessen ot Eldora Park tomorrow, will be some violin solos by Prof. Ernest Pauanne, leader of the band. Prof. Pauanne is an accomplished violinist, and during the afternoon and evening concerts at the park tomorrow will contribute violin solo numbers to the programs.

Louhi's Band is one of the best musical aggregations in the Monongahela valley, and the previous engagements it has filled at Eldora Park have been highly enjoyed by the patrons. As the park affords shade and fresh air to the industrial workers of mill and mine, as well as all other shut-in's during the week, large crowds take advantage of the opportunity to spend the day in the open.

CURB MARKET PRESENTS BARGAIN SALE SCENE

Hon. Edward Callaghan Sends Telegram to Bryan Concerning Nomination

Hon. Edward Callaghan, Charleroi's candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, anxiously awaited news from the Baltimore convention Saturday, ready to leave at a moment's notice by special train, if called upon. Saturday morning Mr. Callaghan sent a telegram to W. J. Bryan as follows: "The hour is come. The leader is here. Callaghan."

COURT ON VACATION

Will Adjourn in Day or So for Six Weeks Rest

FINISHING UP WORK

Court will adjourn sine die on Monday for the annual bar vacation of six weeks. The court has urged attorneys several times lately to get any business that they might have with the court out of the way this week, for there would be no court after Monday, the court intimating that it did not want to be botherel with business during the vacation.

Business is getting a little slack already about the temple of justice, and for the next six weeks there will be very little doing. Equity cases are being heard this week. Motion and rule court on Monday will close up the business until after the bar vacation.

Judge McIlvaine, on acount of the illness of Judge Taylor, will have considerable work on hands before he can take his vacation. He has several important cases, in which opinions have to be prepared, but as soon as he can get off the bench he will soon grind these out.

There will be no court after Monday until the grand jury is convened in August. So far the business for the August term of criminal court, which is usually a large term, is not looming up very large. There is no August term of common pleas court and there will be nothing doing in civil cases until the November term.

Hold Picnic at Park.

Graduates, students and friends of Douglas Business College enjoyed themselves at the annual picnic of the school held Friday afternoon and evening at Eldora Park. The rain in the afternoon dampened the ardor of the picnicers a trifle, but withal a fine time was had.

Miss Lenore Shannon has returned from Lock Haven, where she was a member of the graduating class of the Lock Haven Normal school.

Two Hundred Buyers Quickly Rid Out Limited Supply

FARMERS INTERESTED

Smiled When Scheme Was First Mentioned--Take Things Serious Now

The Charleroi curb market presented more the appearance of a popular bargain sale this morning than anything else. The demand was such that the farmers and producers who came in had no more chance supplying it than the Monongahela river has of changing its course. There were between five and eight wagons in line and over 200 purchasers. Everybody had sold out and gone before 8 o'clock.

Before 7 o'clock the buying started. There was great competition on the part of buyers and none at all on the part of sellers. About every wagon there was gathered a crowd. When a new one would come, women and men would flock thither. It looked very much like an open air bargain sale.

The astounding success of the venture, so far as patronage is concerned, has surprised the farmers and producers. A number did not seriously take to the plan when it was broached by the local committee, and did not prepare for the curb market. The morning a group of farmers were heard talking over thecurb market. One said:

"We never imagined it would be anything like this. Next year there will be four or five times the produce. Every farmer and producer living in the vicinity will plant garden truck. They know now that they can sell it. In two weeks or more there will be a lot more stuff ripe, and you can bet your bottom dollar we are going to bring it in."

"Heretofore we have never had any encouragement to raise garden truck to sell, and often when we brought a load to town we could not huckster it out at the time being and had to sell at wholesale rates that did not pay."

At one time over 60 women and half as many men with market baskets were lined up awaiting the coming of a wagon.

Prof Daniel Gayman, formerly of Charleroi now of Marianna was a visitor in Charleroi today. Prof Gayman was one of those injured in the wreck on the Ellsworth branch June 8.

SAFE AND SANE.

The Fourth of July demonstration which Charleroi is planning for the evening of the Nation's natal day, is not only a safe and sane affair, but it is valuable to the local annals of our town. In a certain sense it is a retrospection of the achievements of the civic life of the borough and designed to give an idea of its start, its growth and development, and its ultimate progress. The idea of inviting all the available former borough and school officials is a most excellent one, as it serves to show who were active in our civic development, and how it was achieved.

A demonstration of this sort is calculated to bind the people together in closer ties of neighborliness, good fellowship and civic pride. It is the inculcation of local patriotism, a quality which the general country is sadly in need of today. Charleroi has made untoward progress from the fact that her people have worked together unselfishly for the common good, and it is a fitting observance to have the men who organized and developed the official life of the borough to meet and be greeted by the people who have been benefitted by their endeavors. This is a safe and sane observance of the Fourth and being held in the evening will not interfere adversely with other plans for the holiday.

THE LEGAL STATUS

After Judge J. A. McIlvaine's masterly interpretation of the law governing the situation, there ought to [illegible] of the dispensation of intoxicating liquor by clubs. Judge McIlvaine has clearly defined the law as to what constitutes a sale and the legal distribution of liquor hereafter by clubs will readily be determined in any court [illegible]

[illegible] to Judge McIlvaine's interpretation of the law, no one without a state license granted by the county court has a right to sell intoxicating liquors for a profit. Under certain conditions such liquors may be distributed and paid for by the consumers, but this distribution must be a matter of convenience and an incident, and not a sale. As a matter of course there will be a difference of opinion concerning this point which will have to be decided by the courts, but in the course of time the decisions in the various cases which arise will clearly define the course of proceedure and give the question a clear legal status. The court's opinion on this question is far reaching and while it is subject to appeal, it is hardly expected in high legal circles that the interpretation will be reversed in any of its particulars.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

There are two Wilsons who are claiming attention these days. One is Woodrow, who wants the presidency, and the other is Chief Wilson of the Pittsburg Pirates, who usually wants a hit.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In the general impression that the public schools all over the country are not performing the desired end—that of fitting boys in particular for their life work—a writer in this week's Saturday Evening Post throws some additional light on the situation. In effect he states that the impression that the old time district schools and academies turned out better and bainer men, was due to the fact that all school experience was closely associated with work. Every boy who attended the country district schools and later the academies had work to do at home on the farm, for agriculture in its simplest and crudest form, was the stable industry of the land in pioneer days and school was a mere incident. The boy could go to school when he couldn't work, and he was more frequently than otherwise called from school when work was pressing to help out on the farm. In the morning he milked cows and did chores, and in the evening repeated the experience. The girls also had similar duties to perform.

In that way every boy and girl was made intimately acquainted from start to finish with the process of production from which their families made a living. They knew all the practical details. When a young man started out at 21 he didn't have to devote several years to learning the elementary details of a business. He was equipped with that knowledge from the very start. He knew what to do and how to do it, and that effect followed cause.

Nowadays education and real work are as widely divorced as the two opposite poles. Our whole educational system is based on the theory that every child is going to college and the fundamental educational training of the children is devoted to the work of preparation. As a matter of fact only a small percentage of our children ever do go through college, but that seems to make no diffeernce on the general plan of educators, who assume that all ought to go through college anyhow, and that if they don't it's their misfortune. The children are taught absolutely nothing in the way of work at school, and as they do not have any duties at home any more, they grow up utterly ignorant of the sources and forces of production. The college graduate is practically no better equipped, and has to learn how to do things and what they are done for after he starts out in life, so that he is practically 30 years old or more, before he is equipped to begin life's work properly.

The writer in the Saturday Evening Post likens a college education which a doting parent has bestowed upon a youth of 22 to a cork leg, so far as practical utility is concerned. He puts it thusly:

"My son, I have spent $4,000 buying you the best cork leg in the market. I don't know that you will ever use a cork leg, but certainly I've been a liberal parent."

ing played or to be played. Bryan is probably the closest watched man on the floor. He has something up his sleeve, it is believed that he will pull off when the time seems most ripe. Whether a nomination will be reached today or not is a question. At the present rate of progress it looks rather doubtful.

There have been many cases like the following in Charleroi. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. Charles Bromwich, 714 Washington avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "About two years ago I had a severe attack of kidney disease and suffered a great deal from pains in the small of my back. I was also subject to headaches and a feeling of languor and although I tried a number of remedies, I was not helped. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me, and deciding to try them I procured a box at Piper Bros.' Drug Store. In a few days after using this remedy, I felt a great deal better and before long a complete cure was effected. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement." Statement given September 30, 1907.)

On November 6, 1909, Mrs. Bromwich said: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as highly today as when I gave a public statement in their favor two years ago. The cure this remedy effected has been permanent."

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence

Among the Theatres

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI

In addition to the Weekly Pathe Bulletin, which is always eagerly awaited by patron on Wednesday nights, the Palace Theatre had some strong photoplay dramas in their weekly repertoire. One of these was "Bronco Bill's Holdup," which tells the story of how a woman's kindness to a westerna desperado was repaid. A woman flees with her child, a little girl, from a drunken brute of a husband and becomes a school teacher whose little daughter makes a deep impression on the man. Next day the woman's husband reappears, and on her refusal to return to him, the man k idnaps his little daughter and runs away with her. He flags the stage coach and takes passage with the child. In the meantime the desperado holds up the stage, makes the passengers alight, and then discovering the child takes her from the leader and making the passengers resume their journey, returns the little girl to her mother. It was a most thrilling play, and aroused the deepest interest on the part of the audiences. Others of equal interest were shown, some grave and some gay, and the weekly repertoire lacked none of the interest that make the Palace such an attractive theatre.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

Two two-reel Bison films by the celebrated "101 Ranch" wild west company were some of the big showings at the Coyle Theatre this week for which no extra admission fee was charged. The first of the Bison films, "The Outcast," is the story of a young white trapper who rescues an Indian maiden from a bear trap in which she has been caught, and returns her safely to her people. The girl falls in love with the trapper, but her father sells her to the chief of another tribe. The girl kills her purchaser and flees to the trapper's cabin, but is captured by the Indians and when about to be put to death is rescued by the trapper and her own people. It is a story of all's well that ends well. "An Officer's Honor" is also a tale of the wild west, a synopis of which was already been published. Another most entertaining film was "A Visit to the New York Zoo," where are shown some interesting specimens of animals and birds. A herd of musk ox, the only living specimens in captivity is shown. These interesting animals which have only heretofore been seen in inanimate drawings, live so far up in the Arctic regions that none but the specimens in New York have ever before been captured. A big repertoire of live motion picture dramas was also included in the weekly repertoire.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

"Shamus O'Brien," a two reel film showing the thrilling and sensational scenes of the dramatic features during one of the struggles of Ireland for home rule and liberty, was the chief attraction of the Star Theatre this week. This great film was most carefully prepared and gave with historical accuracy the costumes as well as the environments of the times. It was a most graphic depiction of the efforts of patriotic Irishmen in times gone by to free their country from the chains that enthralled them. Other strong photoplays of the week were "A Daughter of the West," "Mrs. Alden's Awakening," "The Clown's Triumph," "The Housekeeper," "The City in the Night," a mysterious drama, and many others. It was a most excellent repertoire, as the size of the houses attested.

Fire Engines Long Known.

It isn't worth while inquiring into the origin of the first engine built for a fire extinguisher. There were devices for this purpose before the Americas were heard of. The Egyptians had them and so also other peoples, crude as they were.

Coroner's Cocktail.

Mix three chorus girls with as many men and some champagne until midnight. Squeeze into an auto. Add a dash of joy and a drunken chauffeur. Shake well. Serve at seventy miles an hour—Life.

No cracking and blistering if you use the LAWRENCE Paint—just try it. Bowers Hardware Co. 540 Fallowfield avenue, and Sixth street, Charleroi, Pa.

METHODISTS WIN BY TWO SCORES

Making the most advantage of their six hits, the Methodists won from the Lutherans Friday night. For every hit the Methodists got they scored a run, which was somewhat different from the custom in vogue among the Lutherans who required eleven bingles to get around their four scores.

The Methodists scored one in the first and one in thesecond inning, then with a suddeness the Lutherans jumped into the lead with their four scores. Neither team was able to secure a strangle hold on the scoring market until the sixth inning. Then three hits, three errors and four stolen bases represented four runs. Nobody scored in the seventh.
